FERTIG BLOCK,
Titusville, Pa.

MANUFACTURERS OF LAP WELDED
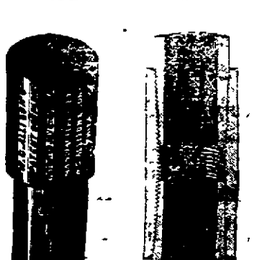
Tubing & Casing
Both Plain and Galvanized,
for Oil and Salt Wells,
American Charcoal
Iron Boiler Tubes,
Lap Welded Tubing for
Steam and Water.



SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
W. C. ALLISON'S
PATENT JOINT
Oil Well Tubing.

This Superior Tubing is furnished with heavy sockets, and is cut with a vanishing screw thread, corresponding exactly with the thread in the socket, so that when screwed up it has a bearing the whole length of the joint, and the absence of a deep thread on the tube at the end of the socket obviates the liability to break off short from the vibration caused by the action of the pumps.

Each length and socket is stamped with our trade mark, and is carefully tested before shipment with a hydraulic pressure of 1,500 pounds to the square inch.

MANUFACTURERS OF
LAP-WELDED OIL WELL
Tubing & Casing.

We would call the particular attention of Railroad and purchasers to this make of Tubing and Casing. One of the important features in the manufacture of our Tubing is, that the

Lap and the Weld

are made perfectly straight, smooth and uniform, thereby giving equal pitch, great strength to the tubing throughout.

Each joint carefully inspected, reamed at end, and proved with the mallett on at a hydraulic pressure of 1,500 pounds to the square inch before shipment.

Each length stamped with our trade mark,

The Sale of the Empress' Personal Effects.

Paris Correspondence of the London Times.

In passing by the new galleries of the Louvre, facing the quay, I heard the tinkle of a bell, and the voice of a crier inviting the public to come and buy what remained to be sold of the Empress Eugenie's personal effects. Accepting the invitation, I entered the little court standing in the midst of the Imperial stables. Another bell-ringer was at the door of the manege where M. Buchon used to give the Imperial Prince riding lessons. It was occupied by old clothes sellers of both sexes, curiosity dealers, a few friends of the fallen dynasty whose faces I had often seen grouped around the throne of the Salle des Etats, some dirty students, a reporter of the Gaulois, attracted, like myself, by the noise of the bell; and a sprinkling of those enlightened gentlemen in white gaiters who pass their lives in hovering about the bookstands on the parapet of the Quay Voltaire, and crossing and recrossing the Pont des Arts. The auctioneer was a self-sufficient sort of commonplace bourgeois. He did his best to be jocular at the expense of fallen greatness. Each article, he seemed to think, was worth its weight in gold, if only as a relic. The dresses, laces, shawls and mantles had been disposed of on a previous day; and it was now the turn of the underclothing and "intimate house linen" to be liquidated. Pillow-cases of fine cambric—so fine that one wonders how they supported elaborate embroideries and deep real lace borders—were hotly contested for by a "petite dame," a shabby Jew of the Rue des Victoires, and a party of buyers belonging, I should say, to the Quartier Breda. The little lady carried off a dozen. It "posed" one, she cried, tittering as she spoke, to press the pillow on which an Imperial head reposed. The cypher E happened to stand for her name, which she volunteered to tell one of the old friends of the fallen dynasty was Eulalie. As for the crown under it, ma foi, she was just as worthy to wear it as any one else! The old friend was not loth to cultivate the acquaintance of the sparkling fair one. He assented to this proposition, and volunteered to hold a pillow-case which the auctioneer had allowed her to take. The toweling was endless. Bundle after bundle of five Saxony damask napkins, all with the E, the crown, the eagle, the busy Carlovingian bee, and a profusion of laurel wreaths, were handed round the vaulted room to be examined by bidders and then disposed of. Some breakfast table napery, the present of a king, now Emperor Willism's best feudatory, was bought by one of the former habitues of the Salle des Etats. He got it cheap. One of the old gentlemen, who happened to be deaf, was furious when he found that he might have had the lot at 130 francs. I do not know why the brokers and students were so jocose when an inside garment was held up by two dainty sleeves, and the public asked to examine it, as a fair specimen of the large bale from which it was drawn at hazard. American modesty cannot bring itself to name this garment any more than it can to speak of a shirt. If Paul de Cassagnac were as good as his oft-repeated oath, he would have run his sword-cane through the profane auctioneer's shewman who held the article in question up to be scoffed at by the males and admired by the women. There were designers and dressing-gowns, clearly furnished by Chapon, the famous ladies' outfitter in the Rue de la Paix, and all wonderfully elegant, but dusty and somewhat blue-moulded. The stocking of thread, silk and Shetland wool were of gossamer lightness. And infinity of bath and toilet sponges were knocked down at a hundred francs. They were all of the best quality. The little lady said she would have been the purchaser if the auctioneer had guaranteed that he was selling her something which had actually passed through the Empress' hand. As for the boots and slippers, they justified the eulogiums passed by M. Franc and Lockroy in their report on Parisian shoemakers. Then there were, the ladies thought, delicious things in the way of petticoats, flannel bustles, robes de chambre, scarfs de bain and woolen wraps. Some baby's robes, which according to the salesman's logbead, belonged to the Prince Imperial's layette, were bought by a Russian lady. A snuffy purchaser near me shook her head incredulously at those belongings to Imperial infancy. They were sumptuously gotten up, she admitted, but nothing would convince her that they did not belong to some distressed bourgeoise's layette, and were not palmed off by the auctioneer to enhance their price, as having been worn by the Prince, at whose birth, seventeen years ago, official France went into the most excessive demonstrations of delight that ever hailed the advent of a royal child on our planet.

Charlotte Cushman.

HER PRESENTATION OF "MEG MERRILIES"

The New York Tribune says:

Last night at Booth's theatre will long be remembered. To all who delight in grand flights of human imagination it was a night of supreme enjoyment. Charlotte Cushman played "Meg Merrilies;" and, in the presence of a brilliant throng, comprising many prominent representatives of the intellectual character and culture of the city, she gave one of the most powerful and brilliant manifestations of genius and ripe ability in art that have ever been seen. The sources and grounds of her great fame were all made clear by this performance. It was the exposition—not more positive to a quick sense of greatness than her Shakespearean embodiments, but certainly more graphic, electrical and overwhelming to all minds and to all senses—of a tremendous and fiery spirit, capable of expanding in the realm of the ideal, and, for a while, at least, of turning this thin existence into actual life. It fulfilled every condition of acting. It presented the entire character and the summarized experience of one human creature—the whole individuality of being, doing and suffering—in true relations to others, and as the centre of a web of romantic, exciting and significant circumstances. "Meg Merrilies" is quite unique in one way, among tragic parts, and therein is especially exacting upon the stage representative. It is messed. It admits of little finesse—it none at all. The whole identity is shown at once, and the actress must be the whole identity the moment she appears. A finer entrance has seldom been devised than that which the Gipsy Queen makes, in the second act of Guy Mannering—when, on a chill November night, in the middle of a thick wood, the grim recesses and ghostly boughs dimly lit by the flickering flames of the camp-fire, she rushes forth from her tent, suddenly electrified at the sight of the long-absent object of her more than maternal love, and more than feudal devotion. Her whole soul is in her eyes, her whole great heart is in her accents; her whole life of beautiful fidelity is in her recognition and warning of her darling foster child and most dear love. Just as the key-note of the entire story is struck in that charming initiatory chorus, "The winds whistle cold and the stars glimmer red," so the key-note of the character of "Meg Merrilies" is sounded in that one posture and rivetted gaze with which — in the startling embodiment of Miss Cushman—she is launched upon the weird forest-scene, like an apparition, sudden, magical, terrific, but infinitely tender. There are three other scenes after this; but they do no more for the part than is done in this one. The victory, if won, must be won on the threshold of the action; and it is royally won by Miss Cushman. Her embodiment, finished and rounded at once, contains all that is thrilling and pathetic in frenzied imagination, unsettled reason and physical misery. She paints—or, rather, she lives—a noble woman-like nature, ruined by bitter affliction and the enforced knowledge of a bloody crime, but true, through every trial and every cloud, to one object of love and one obligation of duty. That is Miss Cushman's "Meg Merrilies," and that is the conception Scott has portrayed, in his always famous and delightful novel. The touch that makes it great is, doubtless, the imaginative touch of partial delirium. A tender, faithful proud, self-reliant nature, however steeped in wretchedness, would scarcely be more than an object of respectful and sympathetic pity. "Meg Merrilies" inspires not pity merely, but terror, awe, and a certain indescribable pride that any shape of human nature can be so grand. She has endured hardships; she has suffered afflictions; she has wept all her tears away, she has suffered as only the tender and imaginative can suffer; she has communed with lonely woods and solitary hillsides, and the icy stars of the winter sky; and then, as reason yielded to grief, has risen into strange abstraction from the way of the common world. There is a lurid mist over the whole personality, an awesome rage and fearsome suggestiveness, such pangs about some old ruin seen at midnight by the light of the setting [moon; and this is what Miss Cushman's vital imagination and intense, volcanic temperament can especially impart. She seemed literally inspired last night; and particularly in her exaltation over the baffled plan of "Dirk Hatteraick," she looked the genius of witchcraft, and really electrified the audience. At the close of the first scene with Bertram a vigorous effort was made to call her before the curtain. Pathos never had fuller or finer interpretation than in the poor old witch's croning over the hand of her "bonny bairn." The awful death scene elicited an outburst of popular enthusiasm, emphatic and fitting.

The Disruption of the Democracy.

From the Syracuse Journal.

Much has been said by Democratic papers about Tweed's never again showing his head in a convention. This is the sheerest nonsense. If the programme laid down by Mr. Cassidy be followed out, what prevents Tammany Hall from controlling caucuses and conventions just as it always has done? Nothing. What is the controlling Democratic power in New York to-day? Not the Reform Democracy, but Tammany Hall, and on Tammany Hall the World relies to carry the election. A disastrous rupture in the Democratic party has occurred, although the Tammany cabal is not the faction which leads it. Tammany is satisfied, because it has not been disturbed. But the Reform Democrats do not mean to submit to bargain and sale. There is no "Republican lie" in the action of the reformers in New York. There is no "Republican lie" to what the honest Democrats of the Fourth Judicial District say in denunciation of the Tammany state ticket. The World may insist that everything is serene, but whatever it may say will not change the fact that thousands of honest Democrats insist that the Tammany ticket must go down.

Crawford County Teachers' Institute.

FOURTH DAY—THURSDAY EVENING.

Informal meeting—Prof S. R. Thompson, in the chair.

Question—What is learning to read? Mr. Chamberlain said it was to express the writer as he intended.

Mr. Spencer said, educate the eye so we can follow as to express our ideas.

Participated in by Messrs. Umholtz, Hallock and Jones; Misses Stockton and Clark.

Report—Subject, "The use of text books by the teacher." The report concontained the following interesting topics: First—From the text book we acquire knowledge. The variety of text books. Third—Protesting against the impropriety of boards changing two often, merely for the sake of having something to do. Fourth—The report favored the uniformity of text books. Fifth—The books should be choice and chaste. Sixth—Oppose the influence of agents over teachers. Seventh—Text books necessary, they aid the teacher in many particulars.

On motion, the report was received as the sense of the institute.

Discussed by Messrs. Thompson, Bunce, Umholtz, Sturdevant, Hallock, Jones and Persons.

Music by Prof. Bunce.

Select readings by Mrs. Logee, interspersed with vocal music.

FIFTH DAY.

Institute convened according to adjournment, Superintendent H. D Persons in the chair.

Music by the members of the institute.

Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. H. F. Miller, of Akron, Ohio.

Grammar, sub syntax, by Prof. H. S Jones, Erie, Pa. "I took it to be he" was the sentence under consideration. The difficulty appeared to be how to dispose of "he." It was fixed up all right in the end.

Class drill, "How to make school attractive and interesting," by Prof. S. R. Thompson. The professor is an ex-superintendent of this county, and a practical and successful teacher, and therefore endeavors to make his remarks clear and concise, and insists upon teachers keeping a correct record of what is said and done. He believed that in our high and common schools too much was taught at one time, and no one study attained to perfection. He disbelieved in having a scholar study one branch all the while; better change from one to the other, at definite periods.

At this stage of the institute Miss C J. Perkins, with a class of ten girls and eight boys, of the Union High School, entertained the institute with a recitation in reading. The class first read prose, a piece entitled "Veteran Eagle." Second, poetry, piece entitled "My bird's nest." The class did admirably, clearly showing what can be done by proper care not to stuff too many things at once, but dwell more upon those things necessary pertaining to good reading, short lessons and that well. I think the lady goes on the principle "not how much, but how well." She knows her place.

Mr. H. C. Bosley, city superintendent of Titusville, made a few preliminary remarks on the grade, stage and condition of the class, and how the first primary principles of reading were conducted.

Music—"Ring the Bell Watchman," by the institute.

"Experience" meeting. Mr. Graham said his greatest difficulty first was to know what to do. When he first commenced be studied theory, but he found something wanting. Is in favor of having a policy of his own.

H. C. Bosley—The first requisite in a school room is good order, and the best way to have it is to keep the scholars busy. He is in favor of short lessons—long lessons will not keep order. The recitation seat is that which controls the success of the school. He said teaching was not a science, but was certainly an art. And in order to achieve success, one must inquire into the resources. Talk to children until they acknowledge themselves that they have done wrong. He thinks a teacher should not act from the impulse of the moment.

Mr. Chamberlain said in order to stop whispering, keep pupils employed. He thought in former times teachers neglected the definition of words. He gave a few words which came up in some schools, the definitions of which were asked, with some kind of meaning given, but incorrect.

Mr. Umholtz thought although many mistakes were made in olden times, many were made at this day.

Rev. Mr. Miller said, if young men are incorrigible, and guilty of swearing, he would have them remain in after school hours, and talk to them in regard to their bad example. If that did not answer, go to the parents personally, and then if the case is not cured expel them.

Mr. H. S. Jones goes on the supposition that if at first you don't succeed, try, try again. He went to a school where many of the scholars swore, and the teacher "swore metaphorically." He thinks all this can be stopped, not by inflicting corporal punishment, but by appealing to their conscience and work up their sympathy.

Mr. S. R. Thompson is of the opinion that in order to carry out general discipline teachers should adopt the plan of talking to pupils privately. He thinks it better, and would have more effect than to give publicity to it.

Mr. R. McMillan said teach the boys and girls to love you. He is of the opinion that in many schools and in many instances the teachers are themselves to blame for bad conduct in the school and on the play-ground, not the scholars.

Recess for half an hour for a social chat, which the teachers enjoyed very much.

Adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Informal meeting, J. C. Graham, presiding.

Question—"Is it policy to propose a code of laws, upon the first day, for the government of the school?" Remarks by Messrs. Carpenter, Webster, Bunce and Sturdevant.

A Titusville class of boys and girls, under the charge of Miss C. H. Perkins, gave a recitation in rudiments in arithmetic. Suffice it to say the class recited creditably. These juveniles are undoubtedly well drilled, and the lady under whose instruction they are deserves more than ordinary praise for the manner in which she conducts drills and works upon the intellect

Class Drill—"On Reading," by Mrs. Logee, of Sharon, Pa.

The Titusville class was taken in her charge and drilled in the vocal sounds. Notwithstanding the class being new to the teacher, and the teacher new to the class, they answered promptly and fluently. Recess.

Lecture—"How to make school attractive," by Prof. Thompson. He said he was in favor of passing from the abstract to the concrete. He said a definition was was an abstraction. We should not attempt to avoid abstractions. Avoid monotony; never repeat a thing more than once, in the same lesson.

Lecture — "Classification of Rural Schools," by Prof. W H. Armstrong, of Conneautville, Pa

Organization permanent—Must have the co-operation of directors. Teachers must be retained if possible several terms in one district. Teachers must consult with the directors and get their sympathy. Teachers must not descend to abuse directors by calling them blockheads. Teachers must be independent of others; they must carefully prepare themselves. The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

Resolved, That the thanks of the institute be and are hereby tendered to the citizens of Hydetown, who have so freely opened their doors to teachers during the week; to the choir who have entertained us with music; to Messrs. Bloss Bros. & Cogswell, who have furnished the teachers with copies of the HERALD containing institute proceedings, gratuitously; and also to the U. T., O. C. and A. R. railroad, and A. and G. W. railroad companies who have furnished free return passes to members of the institutes.

Resolved, That we recogniz in the Edinboro Normal School a powerful agency for the furtherance of the cause of education; and that as teachers we will use our influence in its favor.

Resolved, That we who have received instruction at this institute, will unite our earnest efforts for the elevation of the standard of education, until such a system shall be established as shall raise man to his proper position, as a rational, intelligent and responsible being.

Resolved, That in teachers' institutes we have a means of culture not found in any other source of equal extent, and that we shall long cherish the memory of the one now closing.

Resolved, That as teachers we will use our utmost endeavors to secure a larger attendance at the next meeting of our institute.

P. F. HALLOCK,
C. F. CHAMBERLAIN,
MISS M. J. CHAPMAN,
MISS LUCY HENDRICK,
MISS N. G. MATHER,
Committee.

Thus far, the Institute has been a success, not in numbers, but in interest. It could not be excelled. Never have I attended an institute where the teachers were so punctual in attendance at its sessions and manifested such a deep and abiding interest, as the teachers of the Hydetown Institute. All were provided by the county superintendent with blank books, to note anything of interest. Indeed, you would be surprised to see how eager all were to catch new ideas advanced by such eminent institute instructors as Prof. H. S. Jones, of Erie, S. R. Thompson, of Lincoln, Nebraska, and J. A. Cooper, of Edinboro, who were in attendance daily during the week. The number enrolled up to Friday evening was 101 ladies and 65 gentlemen. Total, 166.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.

By the President of the United States, a PROCLAMATION.

The process of the seasons again enable the husbandmen to garner fruit, and successful toil and industry has been generally well rewarded. We are at peace with all nations; tranquility, with few exceptions, prevails at home, and within the past year we have been free from ills which elsewhere affected our kind. If some of us have had calamities there should be occasion for sympathy for the sufferers, and resignation on their part will cause most high rejoicing to many who have been more favored—

I therefore recommend that on Thursday, the 30th day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, there to make the usual acknowledgements to Almighty God for the blessings he has conferred upon them in their merciful exemption from evils, and to invoke His protection and kindness for their less fortunate brethren whom, in His wisdom, He deemed it best to chastise.

In faith whereof I have hereunto set and cause the seal of the state to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 28th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-sixth.

U. S. GRANT,
President of the United States.
HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Assistant Treasurer at New York to purchase one million dollars worth of bonds each Wednesday in November, five millions in all, and to sell one million coin on the first, third and fifth Thursdays, two millions each on the second and fourth Thursday, or seven millions in all.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 28.

Chief Justice McKean this morning passed sentence upon Thomas Hawkins, the polygamist, as follows: Thomas Hawkins, I am sorry for you, very sorry. You may not think so by the mercy which I shall show you. You came from England to this country with the wife of your youth. For many years you were a kind husband and a kind father. At length, however, the evil spirit of polygamy tempted and possessed you, happiness departed from your household, and now by the complaint of your faithful wife and the verdict of a law-abiding jury, you stand at this bar a convicted criminal. The laws give me a large decretion in passing sentence upon you. I might both fine or imprison you, or I might fine you only or imprison. I might imprison you twenty years and fine you $1,000. I cannot imprison you less than three years nor fine you less than $300. It is right that you should be fined, among other reasons to help defray the expenses of enforcing the laws, but my experience in such cases has been such that were I to fine you only, I am satisfied the fine would be paid out of other funds than yours, and thus you would go free, absolutely free, from all punishment, and then those men who mislead the people would make you and thousands of others believe that God had sent the money to pay the fine, that God had prevented the court from sending you to prison, that by a miracle you had been rescued from the authorities of the United States. I must look to it that my judgment give no aid and comfort to such men. I must look to it that my judgment shall not be so severe as to be vindictive, and not so light as to seem to trifle with justice. This community ought to begin to learn that God does not interpose to rescue criminals from the consequences of their crimes, but on the contrary He so orders the affairs of His universe that sooner or later crime stands face to face with justice and just as the master. I will say here and now, that whenever your good behavior and the public good shall justify me in doing so, I will gladly recommend you to be pardoned. It is the court that you be fined $500 and that you be imprisoned at hard labor for the term of three years.

Contrary to all expectations there was little or no excitement in the court room. The attendance was large but generally all maintained proper decorum. The United States marshals and deputies were fully prepared for any emergency. Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court was given by the prisoner's counsel.

Daniel H. Wells, Mayor of the city, H A. Stent, formerly Attorney General of the Territory, William Balden, of Kimball's Hotel, where arrested an hour since by United States Marshal Patrick upon an indictment of the grand jury, charging them with murder. Tom Fitch made application to admit them to bail, which will be heard on Monday. The prisoners were placed in a carriage taken to Camp Douglass. Slight excitement prevailed at the Marshal's office while the accused were there waiting for a conveyance to the camp, some policemen saying they should not go to prison if they did not wish to go, and one or two women calling out to the officers to take them if they dared, they would fight them with a vengeance, etc. The officers, however, were firm, and nothing serious happened. The alleged crime consists in the killing of Richard Yates and a man named Buck, several years ago. A warrant was out for the arrest of Orson Hyde, one of the twelve apostles, on the same charge, but he eluded the deputies who were sent to arrest him. He was pursued to the southern territory.

A man named Bennett was found murdered on State road, about eight miles from this city, this morning, with four bullets in his body.

The warrants are out for the arrest of Brigham Young and his son, J. A. Young, on a charge of murder in having ordered the killing of Richard Yates. The indictments in these murder cases are understood to be founded on the testimony of Bill Hickman, who was once termed by the Gentiles a Danite, or secret agent of the Mormon authorities. Yates visited the Mormon camp during the rebellion of 1857, ostensibly to sell powder to the Mormons, who regarded him as a spy, and some weeks after arrested him and placed him in custody of Hickman, who sent him to Salt Lake D. Wells then commanded the Mormon troops, and Hosea Stout was Judge Advocate. On the way to Salt Lake he killed Gates, as he said, by order from Brigham Young and Joseph A, and at the instigation of Wells and Stout Hickman is also confined now at Camp Douglas. He went with the officers to Echo Canon, and after pointing out the spot where he had buried Gates, assisted in disinterring the remains.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28

All journals to-day have full accounts of the incidents attending the arrest of Tweed, and no paper appears to have any sympathy for him except the Star. The Sun heads its account of the revelations by the Citizens' Committee, which have been already telegraphed, "The Day of Judgment."

The Times congratulates the public on the general smoking out of the den of thieves.

The Tribune thinks the robbers are enriched by the array.

The World believes the last stage of this preposterous villainy has been reached and that the arch knave that engineered the frauds is in a fair way to get his deserts, and that if Tweed is re-elected to the Senate he should not be permitted to take his seat.

The Herald again asks Tweed's dismissal from the position of head of the Department of Public Works.

The number naturalized this year is much lighter than of any previous year on account of the fact that party naturalization commissioners have not attended to the matter.

A. Woodward, who has been sued for alleged monies due the city, having absconded, as alleged, Judge Barnard to-day granted an application for attachment of his property.

The Reform Democrats, at the instance of Charles O'Conor, nominated Horatio Seymour, of Utica, as a candidate for the Assembly from this city against the Tammany candidate, Tom Fields. Seymour telegraphs his acceptance.

In the Rosenzweig case the jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. Recorder Hackett then sentenced him to the state's prison at hard labor for seven years, disregarding the recommendation to mercy by the jury.

The arrest of Woodward, Garvey and Ingersoll will be made when the papers are received from Albany. Up to to-night they had not come to hand.

The subscriptions by Americans in Paris for the Chicago sufferers amounts to 200,000 francs.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Chicago Relief Fund have given relief to one hundred applicants this city. Many of these were sent back to Chicago, and others have settled here or in the state. Subscriptions received by the Chamber amount to $860,000. This sum has been contributed in sums ranging from $10,000 to fifty cents. For seven days, from October 10th to 17th, the contributions averaged over $100,000 a day. The labors of the Committee closes in a few days.

Drexel, Morgan & Co, have received from the American Commissioner, in London, the following contributions for the relief of the Chicago sufferers: Bradford, Yorkshire, £2,000; Greenock, £800; Belfast, Ireland, £8,000; Mansion House Committee, London, additional, £1,500.

The Grand Army of the Republic ask all posts in the country to aid their comrades who suffered by the Chicago fire.

Colonel Whitely is effectively breaking up the counterfeiting gang. To-day he arrested R. J. Morales, Montanegro, F. Valdersoirdes and J. Valdersoirdes, in whose possession he found dies for ten dollar gold pieces.

In the case of Tweed twenty days is given defendant in which to answer the complaint.

An immense meeting of Democratic farmers was held to-night to ratify the nominations of the city ticket at which an address was made by reform leaders. In an able and eloquent speech by H. M. G. Courney. He strongly denounced the present city officials and asks that close surveillence be kept over the polls on election day, and where repeaters are caught they should receive summary punishment.

Chicago News.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.

The Tribune this morning editorialy announces that five or six hundred additional brick and stone masons can find employment in Chicago through the winter at from four to five dollars per day; that two thousand carpenters can find employment all through the winter at high wages; that in March there will be employment for twice as many more at these trades. In addition to workers in wood, iron, plumbers, gas fitter, workers in tin, brass and copper, a whole army will be wanted. Thousands of laborers now starving in New York and other cities can find work at good wages, with comfortable homes or their families and themselves on farms within one hundred miles of Chicago.

Corporation Counsel Tuley relates the following incident connected with the great fire. I knew a sewing girl dressmaker, who had by years of hard toil saved a little money, that while the fire was burning telegraphed her brother in Indiana to buy and send her a car load of provisions. Her brother did so and this girl took sick families into her rented house and in the first ten days after the fire, fed by one meal or more 600 people. She is a pure, modest, Christian girl, and my wife discovered not from her, but indirectly, that she has been my wife's dressmaker for about five years.

A. C. & O. O. Badger, bankers, claim that they have not suspended, but that they are transacting their business as before the fire.

There was some talk yesterday and day before of a strike for higher wages by the bricklayers, but they finally concluded not to do so. A strike among bricklayers would of course suspend all work in the burnt district except the men clearing away the rubish, and would throw out of employment not only the bricklayers themselves but the carpenters, stone-cutters, furniture makers, gas fitters, plumbers, iron workers, etc. The price now paid for good bricklayers is $4 50 per day, which is one dollar per day more than they obtained previous to the fire. The general impression is at this price building will proceed steadily through the winter.

There are many masons, carpenters, etc., coming to this city from all points, and especially from Canada, where wages are low and business is dull. A reasonable number that come can't fail to get work through the winter.

It is understood that the proper government officials will make recommendations to Congress to provide liberally for Chicago in the way of erecting government buildings. The old custom-house and post-office combined in one building was insufficient in capacity for the government business transacted there, and it has been suggested that the government purchase adjoining lots directly west of the present locality. This suggestion seems to have exalted the ideas of owners of property wanted on Monroe street, and they now ask all the way from $2,000 to $3,000 per front foot for their lots, which is largely in advance of the price asked previous to the fire. The government will not feel obliged to pay these prices and as holders do not come down in their views the government buildings will probable be located at some other point.

It is understood that all the property holders in Michigan are fronting on the proposed Union Central Depot, with a single exception, have withdrawn their opposition of the sale of the ground on which the depot is to be erected. The only one who objects will withdraw his opposition on condition the railway companies will build a bridge across the mouth of the Chicago river at a cost of $75,000. This will probably be done and the injunction which restrained the sale to the companies will be withdrawn. When this is accomplished, there will be no legal obstacle to the occupation of the grounds, and the railway companies will at once proceed to errect the building.

Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 28.

At a recent cabinet council held to consider questions relating to the royal family, the Queen was asked to give her consent to the marriage of the Duke of Edinburg with the Prince of Wales as regent. She refused to assent to either of the propositions, and subsequently she refused to offer the royal signature to public documents which were presented. The Cabinet afterwards continued discussion of the question of regency and the definite proposition was introduced to appoint the Chancellor to sign the documents in place of the Queen.

An Extraordinary Explosion.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct, 28.

A stack explosion took place at the furnace of Andrews Bros., near this city, this morning. The effects were terribly destructive to the surrounding buildings. Nine men were seriously injured, two having already died. Loss $70,000. Insured for about $20,000. A like accident has rarely if ever been known before.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE MORNING HERALD,
TITUSVILLE, Oct. 28, 1871—9 P. M.

The market was moderately active, and prices a shade weaker to day. There was considerable inquiry for futures, and several thousand barrels of oil, s. o., all year, changed hands upon the Upper Creek at prices varying from $4.30 to $4.40. For spot oil in this locality $4.30 to $4.35 was bid, with sellers holding at $4 40 and upwards; $4.50 was the ruling bid for Church Run oil, and from $4 52½ to $4.55 asked. Upon the Lower Creek from $4.62½ to $4 65 was bid, with sellers at $4.70.

We quote the following sales:

The Alps Insurance Company.

At a meeting of the stockholders of this company, held at Erie on the 16th inst., it was resolved to raise all the money needed to pay the losses in the great Chicago fire promptly, without using stock or surplus; and an agreement to that effect was signed by a large majority of the stockholders. An adjuster has already gone to Chicago to adjust and pay losses.

The Insurance Situation—List of Solvent Companies.

The Chicago fire has, at last advices, proved more disastrous to the companies represented there than at first reported. The result of which is that many of the older companies have been obliged to retire from business until a full and detailed report may be had of their liabilities, and in consideration of these facts I have at a great expense and labor secured a few more companies not represented in Chicago, and who lose nothing by the fire, and by this means I am enabled to offer to my patrons and the public reliable and safe insurance at adequate rates. The companies now represented, whose capital and assets remain firm and unimpaired are:

Imperial, of London, gold	$3,000,000
Home, of Columbus, Ohio	650,000
Union, of Bangor, Maine	450 500
Eastern, " "	350,000

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Means of Escape.—The fall has many perils for the weak and feeble, and the sudden atmospheric changes are trying to the constitutions of even the robust. The chilling temperature of the nights, as compared with the almost summer warmth of the days, necessarily exercises an unhealthy influence on all who are exposed to it. Hence dysentery, diarrhoea, intermittent fevers, bilious attacks and derangements of all the secretions are common at this season. The true way to escape them is to meet the causes with a protective and invigorating medicine. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are designed for this exigency. This powerful vegetable specific relieves the system of all acrid humors, purifies the fluids, tones the secretive organs, promotes healthy evaporation through the pores, increases the activity of the digestive functions, cheers the spirits and regulates the bowels. To do this is to make the whole body vigorous and render it proof against the vicissitudes of temperature and against malaria. A course of the great tonic and alterative is therefore in all cases advisable at this season. If, on the other hand, the mischief is already done, and intermittent or remittent fever is actually present, or the liver bowels or stomach disordered, there is no medicine so certain to effect a quick and thorough cure as this harmless and agreeable preparation.

Titusville Pipe Company Notice.—On and after date oil will be received for transportation only, under the following scale of allowances; On oils under 48 degree gravity 2 per cent; on oils of 48 degree and not over 49 degree gravity, 3 per cent. No oils over 49 degrees gravity will be received. All gravity test to be made from the top of oil.

Be it enacted by the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Titusville, and it is enacted by authority of the same, as follows:

That Section 4 of an Ordinance passed in Common Council, Aug. 9th, 1871, and approved by the Mayor August 14th, 1871; entitled "An Ordinance relating to the payment of sewer tax," be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Wherever a sewer greater than twelve inches in diameter shall be constructed in any of the streets or alleys of this city, the average cost of which, including Y connections, shall exceed two dollars per lineal foot, the property abutting on the section of street so improved, shall be assessed to pay a sum equal to one dollar for each foot of front upon said street, the balance of the cost of the sewer to be assessed upon the city at large.

Passed to second reading, Oct. 11th, 1871.
Passed finally in Council, Oct. 24th, 1871.
J. A. CADWALLADER,
President of Council.

Attest: Geo. A. Chase, City Clerk.
Approved Oct. 28th, 1871.

THERE was a flurry of snow on Saturday morning, the first of the season.

THE oldest inhabitant has never seen Oil Creek at so low a stage as within the last week. The stream could be forded dry shod in many places. The rain of Friday improved it somewhat, but it is still exceedingly shallow.

THE FIRE AT PARKER'S on Thursday evening destroyed the 11,000 barrel tank of Parkers & Karns. It contained 2,000 barrels of oil and was uninsured. The fire was caused by lightning, and all efforts to extinguish it were unavailing.

SMALL POX.—Small-pox has for some time been epidemic in many of the large cities, and is more or less prevalent throughout Western New York and Western Pennsylvania. Only one case exists in this city, and that came from Buffalo. Every necessary precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the contagion, and Drs. Barr, Verian and Dunn have been authorized by the Poor Commissioner to vaccinate all poor persons free of charge.

A DISGRACEFUL RIOT occurred at a house of ill-fame in an alley between Spruce and Walnut streets, on Saturday night. Some rowdies visited the place about midnight and being refused admittance kicked in the door. The police were attracted by the noise, and officer Doherty fired his revolver at one of the rowdies as he ran away. This brought together a crowd, who feared the matter was more serious than it turned out. The Chief of Police arrested all the inmates of the house, and conducted them before Justice Strouse, who held them to bail for their appearance this morning. The house is kept by a woman named Van Tassel. The neighborhood is constantly disturbed by nightly revelers, and it is time it was broken up.

HOME MANUFACTURES—PETROLEUM PAINT.—Among the numerous manufactures which might be carried on with profit in this city, is the paint oil made from petroleum, which has for several years been brought into successful competition with linseed oil for mixing white lead and paints. It is a article of commerce, from all accounts, possesses several marked features of superiority over the linseed oil. It is cheaper and has, it is claimed, given universal satisfaction for the purpose intended, wherever introduced. Titusville is a point where the crude material of which it is composed, can be manufactured with greater facility, and more economically, than any other part of the country. It is said to dry as soon, mix as readily, spread more easily, leave a finer gloss and finish, and to require no naptha or turpentine, and can be sold at half the price of linseed oil. An opportunity is now offered to capitalists who may desire a profitable investment, to engage in the manufacture of this article in this city.

For particulars see advertisement in another column. Mr. B O'Brien, the owner of the patent, can be found at the Parshall House.

A HAPPY ANNIVERSARY.—Our fellow townsman, Mr. W. H. Abbott, on Friday last completed his fifty-second year, and the event was made the occasion by a number of his relatives, as well as his business associates, his pastor, and a few intimate friends, for a social gathering at his residence, and the presentation of various testimonials of their personal attachment and regard. The following is a list of the gifts presented:

Silver wine castor complete; from H. B. Porter and J. D. Archbold.

Rosewood cane, gold mounted, from D. H. Cady.

Gold pen, pencil and knife, from Mr. and Mrs. P. W Garfield.

Elegant volume of Household Poems, from Mr. and Mrs. Lucien P. Abbott.

Gold pen and pencil, from William Warmcastle.

One Novelty case, with eighteen pieces, from Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott.

Fine gilt inkstand, from Henry E. Wrigley.

To add to these pleasant surprises Mrs Abbott had elegantly refurnished her husband's private office at the house with new carpet, safe and a writing desk of elaborate finish.

The evening was spent in pleasant interchange of sentiment and agreeable recollections of business and social intercourse. We join in these congratulations to our worthy townsman, on his having reached the middle period of human life, not exempt from vicissitude, yet attended with so many of its blessings, and we wish him many returns of his anniversary. Though differing from Mr. Abbott politically we would improve this occasion to say that, in the qualities and habits which achieve success, such as industry, integrity and enterprise; and in the private virtues of the citizen, such as benevolence, public spirit and charity of judgment toward others; he presents an example worthy of emulation, and the circle of his friends can never be confined to any party, sect or business association.

THE WALLACE SISTERS.—These talented little creatures will inaugurate a short season at the Parshall Opera-house on Thursday evening next. We know of no company that visits Titusville that is so popular as the Wallace Sisters. Their company this season is very good. Among the great complement is Mr. George K Fortescue, the comedian and burlesque actor. This gentleman has a first-class reputation. Many of our citizens have seen him in the larger cities, and speak of him in the most flattering terms. He is a giant in size, and in his female characters he is spoken of as immense. Manager Dobson has carefully selected his company this season. He has been well repaid, as the Wallace Sisters have been playing to jammed houses the entire season. We are glad to welcome back to Titusville, the dashing Jennie, the pretty Maud, and the sparkling Minnie. The box office will be open to-day from 2 to 5 for the reserved seats.

For the Herald.

FREE AND HAPPY.

Pura Spero, Spero.

I see no use in sighing,
Or crying,
Or dying.
In my heart is always lying
Hope enough for a day;
And every day you meet me,
No matter how you greet me,
My words will always sweet be,
For my heart has no alloy.
And every day,
You'll find me gay,
Let people say
What e'er they may,
Oh that's the only way to be
A free and happy boy.

When temptation tries to find me,
And tell me,
Now mind me,
I'm the boy won't let it bind me,
Not for all this world can give.
For I often let my toes out,
When all my money goes out,
So as to keep my nose out
Of temptation's crafty way.
And now my friend,
Attention lend,
Your manners mend,
And seldom spend,
And I will give my word you'll be
As happy every day.

JOHN A. LANIGAN.

Public Improvements.

Editors Morning Herald.

Are our public improvements to be blocked, our streets to be left in their present condition all winter by the refusal of the Auditor to sign city bonds? Mr. Bryan says the bonds are better without his signature than with it, and Mr. Gibbs says he would not give ten cents either way. Most people who have investigated the law and the facts, will agree with Mr. Bryan, for if the Auditor was not legally elected what right has he to sign a city bond, or a city order? If he was not elected under an act of the Legislature specifically authorizing his election, then he has no legal claim to exercise the duties of that office. B J Reid, Esq, establishes this point in his written opinion. Now the Council must adopt some policy in regard to the public improvements now in progress. The contractors demand their pay, and the Auditor refuses his signature. Perhaps the best way to untie the knot is to cut it. The faith of the city is pledged to the contractors, and if the Council issue the requisite bonds, the Legislature will unquestionably legalize them. We cannot elect an Auditor, legally, until the first Tuesday of May next. That is an explicit provision of the charter, and the fact that the Council authorized the election of an Auditor in August does not make it a whit more legal. They were actuated by proper motives, but they assumed unwarrantable authority. The Legislature is the only power that can alter the organic law. If the Council can legally authorize the election of an Auditor, they can increase the number of city officials indefinitely, and vote them salaries without stint. Evidently the Council committed a grave mistake, and the best way out of the present difficulty is to retrace their steps, ignore the obstacle they have created, and trust to the Legislature to legalize their bonds by special enactment. The Legislature should also be requested to repeal the tinkered charter amendments as early in the session as possible, and enact the bill which the Council and citizens' meeting agreed upon, and thus enable all branches of the city government to work together harmoniously, and carry forward the public improvements.

PROGRESS

FINE CLOTHES, ELEGANT MATERIALS, AND NOBBY STYLES.—Our readers in glancing over the columns of the HERALD this morning cannot fail to notice the advertisement of John J. Carter, in which he offers special inducements to those in need of any article of wearing apparel of whatever quality, style, and price desired. "Miss Flora McFlimsey," had she been of the opposite sex, would not have given utterance to her traditional complaint of "nothing to wear," had she resided in Titusville, and been permitted to view the selections of goods on Carter's counters and shelves. It is at this season of the year, too, when long evenings offer favorite opportunities for social visits, and theatres, balls and parties are on the tapis, that nearly every gentlemen who possesses a spark of sociability, and desires to appear to the best advantage, asks himself "what shall I wear, and where can I find what I want?" To those who are yet debating these questions in their minds we would suggest that the quickest way to solve their perplexities is to visit Carter's headquarters on Spring street. While such a visit may satisfy his undecided mind as to where he can find what he desires, the numerous and elegant variety of goods will still leave him undecided as to which would be the most suitable, though this is a dilemma from which either Carter or his chief artist, Tripp, with their good taste and judgment, rarely fail to relieve a customer. Every day brings nearer the holidays, and every day brings us nearer perfection in the way of handsome garments of fine texture, durability and design.

PETROLEUM SUITS.—The suits brought by Sterling Bonsall against various petroleum dealers at Pittsburgh, for non-fulfillment of contracts, are exciting considerable interest among the trade. In the case of Bonsall vs Keys Bros., and E C. Keys, the arbitrators awarded in favor of plaintiff for about $14,000. Other suits are in progress against Wagner & Leech, Kennedy & Co, Kirkpatrick & Lyons, Byers & Co, and Logan Bros. & Co. In one case one witness swore that the contracts between the parties were the same that had been regularly adopted by the trade at a meeting held, and were the only contracts used by the trade. We learn that Keys and Keys Bros. have appealed to the courts on the awards. In the cases of Wagner, Kennedy and Kirkpatrick, the defendants are reported to have put in the plea "contracts are wagering and void."

THAT EIGHTEEN HUNDRED BARREL WELL.—There was considerable inquiry made in this city on Saturday to ascertain the location and actual production of the "big strike" at East Hickory, and various rumors were in circulation, though as this is the season for "ducks to fly" no one appeared to take much stock in the reports in circulation. We were handed the following dispatch from Fagundas, which gives the latest news from the well. "I just came from the well at East Hickory. She is pumping all water, and no oil. There is some B. S. pumped out, but no oil. I do not think she will amount to anything. The well is two hundred and fifty feet deep." D. L.

THERE will be a special meeting of the Council this evening, for the purpose of agreeing upon some practicable method of carrying on the city improvements intended to be provided for in the charter amendments. A full and punctual attendance is requested. J. A. CADWALADER.
President of the Council.

IMPROVEMENTS—SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES—RELIEF FOR THE WEST, ETC

PLEASANTVILLE, Oct. 25, 1871.

Editors Morning Herald:

There having been no report from this pleasant borough in the HERALD for some time, I thought a few lines indicating the condition of affairs, past and present, would not come amiss.

The past summer's progress has been steady. Several fine dwelling houses have been erected, and all the debris of the "great wave" of '69 either removed or finished up in style and condition suited for residents "in America," as the shining lights from abroad are in the habit of saying when they propose to leave the oil regions for good (of) society.

Among the best residences erected is that of Elwin Parshall, a young man who left this place for Tidioute four years ago, dependent entirely upon his own resources, and who has acquired a competence in the oil business—a notable and worthy example for other young men of the oil regions to imitate in the use of their acquired wealth, as he has built this residence for a home for his widowed mother and younger brothers and sisters, besides defraying their expenses for education at the best schools.

The union schools of Pleasantville are in a prosperous condition, under the supervision of Professor Stewart, and corps of assistants Of the Professor's merits as a first-class teacher I need not speak, as he occupied the same position for several years in Titusville. The Professor has purchased a very desirable property here for a permanent location. Many other substantial men have done the same, attracted by the advantages of the place, its public institutions, its freedom from the resort of vice, and the entire absence of any public debt for any purpose whatever, thereby making the rate of taxation low. Besides there is an entire unanimity on the part of the inhabitants in public matters, and a freedom of toleration, in opinion, civil and religious, which is desirable in any community. Even the Young Men's Christian Association, made up by a union of all the churches, allows the sinners to vote as well as pay, a thing quite unusual I believe, and only allows them to hold no office, wishing merely to say that any man in the church is better than the best man out, or for some other reason I wot not of, but no doubt sufficient to not be attributed to want of toleration.

The society is numerous, zealous and earnest, and will without doubt accomplish great good in the cause of Christianity.

While the rush of business is not what it was during the excitement, it is on a substantial basis and flourishing. Many are beginning to despair of the new railroad, it is so long in commencing, but the "powers that be" assure us it is all right, and we believe them.

The building owned by the Catholic Church in this place has been sold to Mr Chestnut, and is being fitted up as a private residence. The new well of McLaughlin and Hancox creates quite a stir here, and the friends of Mr. McLaughlin, who is a citizen of this place, and an energetic and industrious man, rejoice in his good luck, but hardly expect that he will now, as Street Commissioner, see that the sidewalks and streets are duly built and kept in good repair.

Quite extensive subscriptions in clothing and money for the sufferers by the prairie fires in the West, are being obtained by the young ladies of this place, which are being forwarded as fast as obtained.

SOJOURNER

THE fearful calamities by fire in the west temporarily diverted public attention from the city hospital project, but we trust it will not be suffered to languish. The necessity of establishing such an institution every is day more apparent.

Our townsman, Mr. J. W. Beatty, has invented a new toy for children which is decidedly novel and cannot fail of affording great amusement to the little ones. The toy consists of a miniature derrick, bull wheel, sampson post, engine house, and rig complete. Inside the engine house is placed a species of clock work, which, when wound up starts the pitman crank and walking beam in motion, and it has all the appearance of a drilling well. Inside the derrick a miniature man "drills away" as if intent on striking a hundred barrel well. Mr. B has filed a caveat in the patent office at Washington and intends eventually taking out a patent.—Pet. Center Record

The General Insurance Agency of F. Bates & Co, established in 1863, still lives, notwithstanding the great fires in the oil regions in 1865, the Portland fire in 1866, and the Chicago fire in 1871.

We do not advertise "Solvent Companies" that didn't have sufficient respectability to be known in Chicago, and of course had no losses there. Nor do we say "unembarrassed," for "we think we are hit." But if our customers, or any parties will bring us their insurance policies we will tell them what is good and what is not, and will try to protect them in the future as well as we have during the eight years past. Solvent and Unembarrassed.

The Republic Fire Insurance Company, of New York, notifies its customers that its losses at Chicago, amounting to nearly $250,000, are in rapid process of settlement, and will be met without embarrassment. The company continues business with undiminished capital and a large surplus, and issues policies at rates commensurate with the risk assumed.

BUFFALO, January 23, 1871.

Understanding that Mrs. O. B. Evans, of this city, is about to take up her profession of residence in Auburn for a time, I take great pleasure in stating that I have known Mrs. Evans for some years as a Daguerreotypist and Photographer who ranks among the first in the world for artistic taste and skill. I sincerely hope that she may be as successful at her new residence as she has been in this city.

ANOTHER

Valuable Invention

For Oil Wells.

CATES' PATENT

BACK SUCTION PREVENTIVE,

Which entirely prevents the ingress of air into oil wells while the tubing is being drawn.

It is a well-known fact to oil well operators that upon wells where gas pumps are used, it is necessary to preserve as nearly a perfect vacuum as possible, and that no air should be let into the well at any time when it can possibly be avoided; consequently, whenever the tubing is drawn from a well, it is the cause of great injury to it, as the sipling box being then necessarily opened, the oil immediately rushes back between the tubing and casing into the well, going into the oil rock and gas veins, and consequently causing the oil and gas to rush back to a great distance. It almost always takes several days after pumping is resumed for a well to be brought back to its former condition, and oftentimes it takes several weeks, and quite frequently wells have been almost completely ruined by the air being thus let in while drawing tubing.

The Back Suction Preventive is attached to the stuffing box, and works in such a way that it completely shuts up the space between the stuffing box and tubing so effectually that not a particle of air can get through at any time while the tubing is being drawn and replaced.

It supplies a want long felt, and is without question one of the most valuable inventions of the day to those engaged in the oil-producing business. No well should be without one, as it oftentimes saves ten times its cost by once using.

It is manufactured and for sale at the Foundry and Machine Shop of

ANDREWS & CO.,

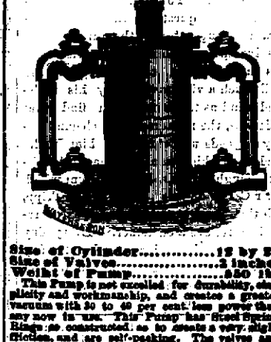
EXCELSIOR GAS PUMP!

The Largest and Best Gas Pump in Use.

160 sold in 90 days, and give entire satisfaction.



Size of Cylinder.....12 by 24
Size of Valves.....3 inches
Weight of Pump.....550 lbs

This Pump is not excelled for durability, simplicity and workmanship, and creates a greater vacuum with 30 to 40 per cent. less power than any now in use. This Pump has Steel Spring Rings so constructed as to create a very slight friction, and are self-packing. The valves and parts are large, to admit of a free suction and discharge of the gas. The valve seats are protected by a leather gasket so that valves to obviate any wear to the valve seat or valve.
